

•Why This Summer Is Important•

After several unprecedented years, students and parents are looking forward to a more routine school experience in Fall 2022. Students will encounter completely new schedules and opportunities, but also situations that place a much higher demand on organization, planning and time management skills. And this year, there is often the need to transition from at home/virtual/hybrid learning to in-person learning with all the academic challenges that will present.

Take this opportunity for your student to learn practical, innovative techniques that can improve their executive function skills with a

GOSTRONG Bootcamp

•Getting Ready for College Bootcamp

Focusing on executive function skills necessary for the successful transition between high school and college

•Getting Ready for High School Bootcamp

Focusing on executive function skills necessary for the successful transition between middle and high school

•Getting Ready for Next Year Bootcamp

Focusing on executive function skills needed for success (middle school and beyond)

3-Hour Series

One-on-One Series

- Individualized instruction in the GOSTRONG method to conceptualize and enhance executive functions
- Focus on time management and organizational strategies for your particular classes, interests and activities including effective use of a planner, calendars and to-do lists
- Learn techniques to maximize attention and memory

Group Series

Put together your own group of 2-4 students

- Instruction in the GOSTRONG method of conceptualizing executive functions
- Practice using tools and strategies for time management and organizational strategies in typical school situations
- Learn techniques to maximize attention and memory

Space is limited, so sign up and reserve your spot today!

REGISTER by contacting
Susanne Phillips Keeley
susanne@gostrong.org
847.970.2415